

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER: 2008-43GENIUM Consolidated Feed® MIGRATION PROJECT*Updated test environment in GCF3

From Monday November 17th the GCF3 test environment is updated with a new release. The new release will have a complete setup when it comes to sources and available messages. Read more about test environments at the end of this newsletter.

Market wide tests and technical conformance

On November 26th a market wide test will be conducted to make sure that all feed subscribers can connect to the system in line with the instructions and stress test the environment. The market wide tests will be performed in the test environment GCF2. During the test NASDAQ OMX will monitor customer technical behavior to ensure that connected applications cannot disturb operations of the market data system. A document describing the test scenarios is now available on the GENIUM extranet. Please sign up for the test no later than November 24th, 2008 by sending an email to GCFMigration@nasdaqomx.com.

New TIP-specification available November 17th

From November 17th 2008 a new version 2.0.0.3 of the GENIUM Consolidated Feed TIP specification is made available via the GENIUM extranet. This version contains minor corrections and changes to descriptions, but also new specifications for the reference data from SAXESS. You will receive new basic data messages as well as new fields in existing basic data messages on the offered equity related products.

FAQ document

A Frequently Asked Questions document for the GENIUM Consolidated Feed and TIP 2.0 is now available on the GENIUM extranet. In the FAQ you will find clarifications on functionality that is not directly addressed in other product- and project documentations. The document will be continuously updated so please check back regularly.

Sample code

Sample code that can be used when developing your system to retrieve the GCF TIP feed is now available on the GENIUM extranet.

NASDAQ OMX Nordic Markets updateRemoval of the block market for Danish single stock products

On February 2nd the block markets for Danish derivatives will close and all trading will occur in the single market. This change affects all Danish single stock options and futures.
